MOORE HIGH SCHOOL HYMN

Moore High School,
We love you true.
Moore High School,
All praise to you.

Moore High School,
Our Alma Mater dear.
Moore High School,
We sing of you.

JAMES PRYOR, III, Editor-in-Chief

This 1962 edition of THE LION is another volume in the annals of Moore High School. The Senior Class of 1962 realizes that this publication is as traditional as any other yearbook ever published, yet for the Senior Class, it has a special significance. It is our safe-kept memory of our fond friendships and unforgettable moments, as well as, the dull and pleasant hours spent in classrooms on the campus of dear Moore High School.

The annual staff has chosen for its theme, "In Our Hands Lies the Success of Tomorrow." This theme makes us aware of our grave responsibilities. What challenges we face as a class one hundred-twenty strong when we consider the responsibilities that lie ahead.

Nevertheless, we face the future with confidence for we feel that our high school life has been a crucible of our future. It has molded us into young men and women who have the skills and abilities necessary to meet the demands of the future.

Thus, as Editor-in-Chief of the 1962 LION, I wish to express my appreciation to my Principal, teachers, friends, advertisers, and schoolmates for making the 1962 publication possible.

Thanks to all.

Editor-in-Chief,
JAMES PRYOR, III

DEDICATION

MRS. J. M. GRAHAM

Because of the sterling leadership which was provided by Mrs. J. M. Graham who for a number of years was chief advisor for the Lion Yearbook, this book is being dedicated. She was kind, understanding, diligent, cooperative, and creative. She will be missed tremendously as she continues to teach in another field of endeavor.

A TRIBUTE

CHARLES EDWARD MOORE
1943-1961
IN MEMORY

How quickly you left without a word,
To say that forever you were gone;
You did not give us time to be heard
As we shouted your honor loud and long.

A life is not lived in years,
But in how well of yourself you give
To help others forget their fears.
In this respect, my friend, a long life you did live.
- K. Bonner

On June 11, 1961, Charles Edward Moore drowned in the Bosque River.

His death brought sadness not only to his family, but also to the prospective graduating class of 1962, of which he was a member.

Charles was an active member of many school clubs and organizations.

He seemed to enjoy participation in the J. A. Kirk Chorus, the Tri-M, and the National Honor Society.

Death took his body and soul, but his memory will remain alive in the hearts of the Senior Class of 1962.

IN YOUR HANDS LIES THE SUCCESS OF TOMORROW

"Ask not what your country can do for you but what you can do for your country." Those words of President Kennedy express an important part of the work that you are doing now in your public school life - young Americans ready, eager, and equipping yourselves to serve your country while at the same time fulfilling your own best potentialities. We ask that you be conscious of your role, developing all that is best for tomorrow's great and wonderful America.

L. V. McNAMEE
Assistant Superintendent

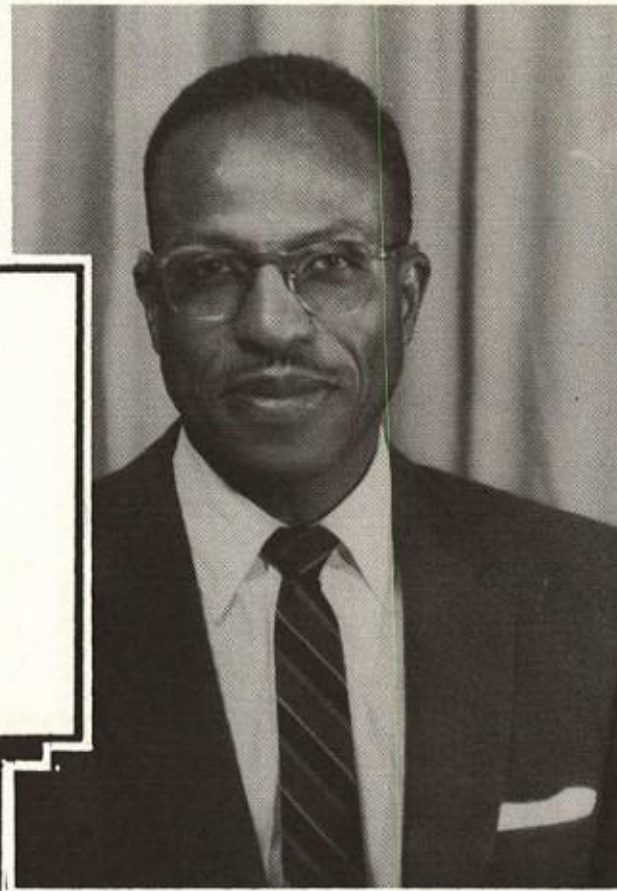

In the opinion of a great educational organization whose purpose is to give direction to school academic endeavors, the central purpose of schooling in our times is to teach students how to think. If this be true, how well, in your opinion, has this goal been met in your own life? Can you and do you exercise the powers of real thinking?

In utilizing reasoning powers, what are the main issues of life? A prominent literary figure has said that young people should be able to answer at least three questions: Who am I? Where am I? Why am I here? These are basic questions. They are not easy ones. Think on them for awhile.

Thinking is one of the hardest of tasks, but it will pay rich dividends in personal, vocational, and civic experiences. There is room some place for the thinker.

J. J. WILSON
Principal

The 1962 Lion Yearbook staff has accomplished a magnificent undertaking in the editing of this outstanding annual.

The school, faculty and students, the parents, and the community should be very happy because of this achievement. In the book will be found a record of the activities which have transpired during the past twelve months. They should recall many happy moments and perhaps a few sad ones as the pages are turned.

Consequently, in behalf of the faculty, student body and parents, congratulations are extended to the Yearbook staff and advisors who have labored so diligently.

COUNSELLING SERVICES

Choosing your life's career requires constructive planning.

Mrs. F. V. Webster, girls' counselor, assists Harriet Wilson, 1962 Senior, in planning her vocation.

The many, many, perplexing problems confronting today's young Americans may be partially analyzed through a strong high school guidance program. As boys' counselor, at Moore High School, the need for understanding the problems of youth is a challenging experience. However, the privilege of having a part in the promotion of their growth is exceedingly rewarding as one watches these people prepare themselves for careers based upon right choices, thorough preparation, and equal opportunities.

Mr. W. R. Gerald, boys' counselor, discusses test results with Don Albert Williams.

Chapter 3 THE BEGINNINGS OF GOVERNMENT IN THE UNITED STATES

The roots of American government reach deep into the past. Our system of government did not suddenly spring into being as if the wind. Nor was it pulled out of thin air by the

Our English Heritage

The French, Spanish, Dutch, Norwegians, and other Europeans settled in parts of what was to become the United States. But it was the English who came in the largest numbers. And it was the English who came to control the thirteen colonies that stretched for 3,000 miles along the Atlantic sea-board.

These early pioneers who cleared the wilderness and fought off the Indians had to look out their own necessities. They had to search for justice, peace, and order. The Founding Fathers at Philadelphia in the summer of 1787, after a long, careful, and difficult process of thought, action, and compromise, wrote the Constitution of the United States.

The Colonial Period

When the first settlers came to North America, they brought with them the ideas and customs of the English. They brought with them the ideas of a government that was to be based on the principles of justice, peace, and order. They brought with them the ideas of a government that was to be based on the principles of justice, peace, and order.

SETTLERS AT WORK

Early Americans had to live together in harmony, or they would not survive. This was called "government in order to live," the beginning of our government today.

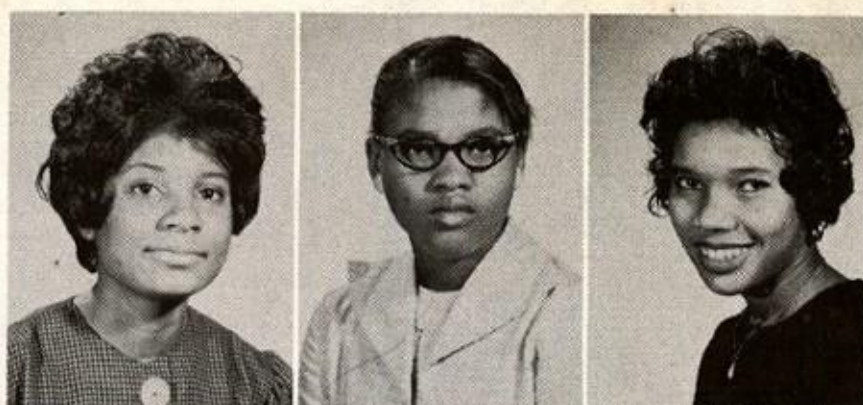

of which are to be found today—county, township, jury, sheriff, coroner, and justice of the peace, for example. And all of these were well-known in England long before the first Englishman ever heard of America.

(1) The Fact of Limited Government and Civil Liberties. They brought with them, too, the twin ideas of limited government and civil liberties. That is, that government is not all-powerful; that government is limited to what it may do, and, especially, that it is limited in the sense that each man has certain rights that government cannot injure or take away. These great principles of freedom were proclaimed in such historic English documents as the Magna Carta in 1215, the Petition of Right in 1628, and the Bill of Rights and the Act of Toleration of 1689.

(2) The Concept of Representative Government. A third vitally important concept brought to America in English ships was that of representative government. For centuries there had been developing in England the Miss Elno Lee, Lion Sweetheart, is crowned by school Principal, Mr. J. J. Wilson. Melvin Hackworth is her escort.

Pep rallies, Victory March, color day, Homecoming Sock Hop, auction of players' equipment and the traditional bonfire were highlights of the week.

Scenes from the celebration are shown on the following pages. The greatest thrill of Homecoming came when the MIGHTY LIONS defeated the Lincoln High Tigers of Dallas in the traditional Homecoming game.
